Managing Beaver Flooding Problems with Flow Devices

John Egan has been installing successful flow devices to resolve beaver flooding problems with Mike Callahan and Beaver Solutions each summer since 2012. After graduating from Siena College in May 2018, John joined Beaver Solutions full-time. He is a licensed Problem Animal Control Agent and is in charge of beaver management and flow device installations in the state of Connecticut for Beaver Solutions. John will share his wealth of knowledge on assessing and managing a variety of beaver issues, with an emphasis on the use of nonlethal flow devices to resolve beaver dam flooding issues. He will review multiple successful flow device designs, their indications, limitations and the success rates of over 1,500 flow device installations by Beaver Solutions.
